

Normal wedding reception venues like hotels can be dull and boring. They don't allow the couple the freedom and flexibility to decorate their wedding venue as per their individual taste and requirement. Wedding marquee on the other hand are perfect to express your individual style. You can choose the décor, caterers, furniture, and everything needed to make your wedding just the way you have always dreamt it to be.

There are several types of marquee to choose from. For instance, if you want your wedding in Ireland to be as romantic as possible, you may choose a wedding marquee in the latest designs of Clear Span Framed Marquees with superb timber polished floors with soft lights scattered throughout, and trevira drapes flowing in the breeze. These marquees can be erected on a beautiful lawn or in the grounds of a stately house or castle would add a dream like quality to your marquee wedding in Ireland and are perfect in all weather conditions

The wedding marquees are available in several shapes and sizes. You can easily find the one that can accommodate your guests and at the same time suit your floor plan and the type of entertainment you are planning for your wedding. The Pagoda, called Chinese Hat, helps add an elegant touch to the wedding reception.

Regardless of the type of marquee you choose for your wedding in Ireland, you may decorate it in classic white or ivory or the colour that matches your, as well as, that of your bridesmaids dresses. For lighting the wedding marquee Ireland, the options range from spot lights to candle lights to dim fairy lights. You may even make the chandeliers hang from the marquee to add an ethereal touch to your event. By adding star light effect over the dance floor or putting beautiful flowers on every table, you can further enhance the overall look and feel of your marquee wedding in Ireland. With marquee wedding, you are only limited by your imagination.

However, those of you who wish to add the personal touch and style to your wedding, but can't do it on your own, may log on to www.classic-marquees.ie for best professional marquee wedding services in Ireland.